DARING JAIL BREAKING.

DAVE PADDOCK'S REMARKABLE ESCAPE FROM JOLIET.

An Almost Superhuman Display of Ingenuity Exercised by a Convict to Get Out of Prison—Working a Few Minutes at a Time for Over Two Years.

A section of iron bar was cut from the cell door of Dave Paddock by that redoubtable knight of the dark lantern and "jimmy" on the occasion of his sensational escape from Joliet. For over two years Paddock has schemed and worked to effect his purpose. He was sent up from Rock Island on an eight year term, and was placed at work in one of the shoeshops, where during every minute of the working hours in the shop he was constantly under the watchful eye of his keeper. There was not the least chance to plan an escape from the shop. But, not daunted at this, he determined to find some means of getting out of his cell at night.

To fully appreciate the difficulty of cutting out of a cell it must be remembered that three times every hour during the night, at irregular intervals, a guard wearing padded slippers—called "sneak shoes" by the convicts—makes his rounds, peering into each cell to make sure that all are secure and in bed. Paddock first appropriated a couple of thin bladed shoe knives from his shop, and, concealing them from the guard, took them to his cell, where, by using one as a file, he converted the other into a fine steel saw.

Then by slow degrees he collected a large amount of shoe thread from the same shop, with which he braided the rope. All this required months of stealthful work, but in the course of time he had a slender, strong rope, fully fifty feet in length. This he kept carefully hidden in the mattress of his bed.

Next he began saving the bars on his door a little at a time. Night after night he watched for the passing of the guard, and as soon as that official was beyond hearing distance he would cut a little and then fill up the space with black wax, which he had also obtained from the shoeshop, so that the prying eyes of the guard could not discover by daylight that the door had been tampered with.

When the bar had been cut through he carefully wedged it back into place with small iron staples and bits of lead.

REMARKABLE CLEVERNESS.

He could now get outside of his cell, but the hardest work was yet to be done. His cell was located high up on the third tier, some sixty feet away from the tower door through which he hoped to make his way. Watching his chance, when the night guard was on the opposite side of the block of cells, he removed the bar from his door, crawled through the opening, and with all the agility of a cat climbed down the railing from tier to tier, ran across the corridor to the tower door, and, with a piece of shoemaker's wax, took an impression of the lock, regaining his cell before the guard appeared on that side of the cell-house.

By careful working he made a key out of lead pipe that a plumber had dropped near his workbench in the shop. Several trips from his cell to the tower door were made during the next few weeks before his key would fit, and then it took him some time to get together enough material to make a "dummy" to put in his bed to prevent his absence being discovered before he could get beyond reach. On the very day that he intended to make his escape, while returning from the shop to his cell, he slipped upon an icy stairway and badly sprained his ankle. This almost discouraged him. His months of anxious toil had come to naught. His scheme would surely be discovered. After three weeks in the prison hospital he was sent back to work, and when he reached his cell that evening was overjoyed to find that his rope, key and "dummy" were still safely concealed in the mattress, and everything as he had left it.

ESCAPE AND CAPTURE.

Another week elapsed before his ankle would permit his making the attempt. The night came, however, and along about midnight he was safe inside the tower. A single iron bar still stood between him and freedom, and it would take long hours of hard work to cut through it. Just as daylight began to break the bar gave way. The rope now came into good use, and with its aid he slipped down upon the prison lawn and hurried away to the woods that line the bluff east of the prison. Here he found a thicket or underbrush where he lay hid all that day, and when darkness came again he got away.

His absence was not discovered from prison until the guard went to unlock his cell in the morning. This was without doubt the cleverest escape that had taken place at Joliet, and stamped Paddock as a genius. Extraordinary efforts were made for his recapture. Large rewards were offered, and his description was cast broadcast. A year later it was discovered that Paddock had a mistress in Chicago. A watch was set on her house for several weeks, and sure enough one night Paddock put in an appearance. Captain Simon O'Donnell, of the police department, had the place surrounded and the daring convict was again in the toils. He was taken back to his old quarters at the prison, where he finally completed his sentence, not, however, until he had tried several other schemes for escape, but he was too closely watched to ever again succeed.—Joliet (Ill.) Letter.

Use for an Old Fashioned Caster.

If you happen to have among the family silver an old fashioned caster, don't frown at it uncompromisingly and wonder if it "can't be melted up into something useful." Take it down from its out of the way nook and unscrew the long handle which holds the crust frame. This will leave when taken out as handsome a table jardiniere for ferns and flowers as your soul can desire, with the trifling addition of a tin basin, which any tinsmith will fit inside.—New York Times.

The Lady Factotum.

The "lady factotum" is what our English neighbors call those engaged in the vocation of "visiting housekeeper." This is an employment which has been highly recommended, and which a number of ladies who from ill health or some other reason are unable to perform their domestic duties. She oversees the servants, inspects the stores and possibly undertakes shopping, marketing and the writing of notes, and she performs other offices which are of too confidential and responsible a nature for the ordinary servant to undertake.

If she is a woman of energy, tact and health she can accomplish a great deal by visiting a number of families for about an hour a day. She may go so far as to employ assistants in marketing and shopping, whose work she is able to oversee with intelligence. She is paid for this work on even a better scale than a visiting governess, and if she is an able, efficient woman in the items of inspecting stores and furnishing food at down town prices, she can easily save a family half her liberal remuneration.

The institution of such a vocation is a great relief to many overburdened or ill or incapable housewives, and presents an excellent and lucrative field to women of efficiency and refinement. It is a place such as an elder sister might take, and such indeed as many elder and unmarried sisters do take for no remuneration beyond "love and affection."—New York Tribune.

"Tower of the Tongues."

Our story of the Tower of Babel is known in Chaldean and Armenian tradition as "The Story of the Tower of Tongues." It is one of the earliest recollections of the Tigro-Euphrates basin, and is related by Berossus in the following manner:

"The first inhabitants of the earth, glorying in their own strength and size, and despising the gods, undertook to raise a tower whose top should reach the skies. This tower they erected in the place where Babylon's ruins now lay thickly strewn over the ground. In erecting this monster roadway to heaven they toiled incessantly. But when it had approached near unto heaven the wind assisted the gods and overthrew the work upon its contrivers; and its ruins are said to be still at Babylon. At about the same time the gods introduced a diversity of tongues among men, who till that time had all spoken the one language. The place in which they attempted to build the tower is now called Babel, on account of the confusion of tongues, for confusion is by the Hebrews called bable."—St. Louis Republic.

Suicides among the Aristocracy.

Suicides among the aristocracy in England are rather numerous. Lord Conington, who was Mr. Parnell's great-uncle, hanged himself in 1842. In the same year the Earl of Munster, one of the illegitimate sons of King William IV, shot himself in the head. In 1869 Lord Clonmurry, the last of his house, jumped from a window and broke his neck.

In 1873 the last Earl of De la Warr drowned himself, and in 1876 Lord Lytton, the insane brother-in-law of Gladstone, escaped from his keepers, threw himself off the staircase of his own house and was killed.

A story of suicide in which sentiment is mingled is that of Prince Baudouin, heir to the throne of Belgium. The youthful prince loved beneath his station, and finding that love could never be realized sought peace in the eternal silence of the grave.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Two Classes of Gypsies.

The gypsies of today are divided up into the full blooded or tent gypsies, and the Kairengros or house dwellers, who keep their gypsy blood a secret. This division of the race shows that they are gradually yielding to the pressure of outside influences, and the complete extinction of their national identity will surely be a matter of time.—George Ethelbert Walsh in New York Epoch.

Can You Say This? Try It.

How much pleasanter it is to sit in a cab and think how much pleasanter it is to sit in a cab than it is to be walking than it is to be walking and think how much pleasanter it is to sit in a cab than it is to be walking.—Stoughton Sentinel.

Price of Hairpins.

Hairpins vary in price from a few pennies a gross to $500 apiece. Perhaps the hairpin is the most useful all-around article of feminine wear. It serves not only the purpose for which it was designed, but also as glove buttoner, shoe buttoner, cuff fastener and even breast pin.—New York Recorder.

Baron Hirsch's Wealth.

One of the best of authorities on wealth looks upon Baron Hirsch as in the first rank of the world's millionaires, in fact not far from the very top. He is convinced that Baron Hirsch is the owner of at least $75,000,000.—Blakely Hall in New York Truth.

C. T. Bonder went below last night.
E. Laherty of Verdi was in town yesterday.
L. C. Saxton of Amadee is registered at the Palace.
W. H. A. Pike of Wadsworth spent yesterday in Reno.
M. Carey of the Reduction Works was in town yesterday.
Joe Wheeler, the cattle buyer, left for the north yesterday.
George T. Mills arrived on the V. & T. passenger last evening.
Senator L. Gravo and wife arrived from Winnemucca last night.
Bob and Will Davis were among the arrivals from Carson last night.
The Sagebrush Chatauque Circle met at Mrs. Dan Boyd's last evening.
Assessor Fletcher will begin his yearly rounds of assessing March 1st.
Armory Hall is being repainted and repaired in a most artistic manner.
William Haines is said to be dangerously ill at his home on Truckee Meadows.
Mrs. Judge Balknap came down from Carson last night on her way to California.
Governor Colcord was in town yesterday attending the meeting of the Board of Regents.
W. E. Gould, Manager of the Reno Creamery, has returned from San Francisco.
T. K. Stewart came up from the Pyramid Reservation last night and returned this morning.
E. B. Hall, the well known hardware merchant of Carson, came down on the V. & T. last night.
Hon. E. T. George was in Reno yesterday attending the monthly meeting of the Board of Regents.
The Fugus property was sold yesterday by the Sheriff to Henry Orr, the consideration being $3,500.
Rev. Wm. Lucas will leave this week for Fresno to take his new charge. He will officiate the first Sunday in Lent.
A session of the District Court will open March 1st. Attorney Julian says there are several criminal cases on the docket.
Superintendent Chamber of the Ophelia Home at Carson returned to that city yesterday on the V. & T. local.
An excellent after entertainment has been prepared for the Reno Lyceum next Friday evening, and everybody should attend.
Frank Button, fireman of the Bliss ranch near Golconda, shipped six carloads of fat hogs to Horn & Chapman, San Francisco, yesterday.
The Silver State says seven hundred head of hogs belonging to Peter French are being driven to Winnemucca for shipment to San Francisco.
Miss Annie McLaughlin has so far recovered from her late severe illness as to be able to be out again, much to the gratification of her many friends.
Go to Marcus Fredrick's and get one of his hat crown cigar holders. The content of him out. You can keep your cigars from breaking by carrying them in one of the holders.
Superintendent Ring is making an effort to have a State Teachers' Institute about April 1st. An institute of great benefit to the teachers, it is hoped will succeed.
Most of the farmers are busily engaged with their Spring plowing. The moisture in the ground now makes it much easier than it will be later on when it becomes dry and hard.
The third oratorical contest will be held at the Baptist church Monday evening, February 28th, at 7:30. Admission free. A collection will be taken to defray expenses. The public is cordially invited.
Archie Farrington and John Miller came up from below yesterday morning and continued on south to Benton. Mr. Farrington will return in a few days to look after matters relative to the Reduction Works.
The Music and Drama of San Francisco says: Madeline Banton, who appeared for the first time with Stuart Robson's Company as Miss Neville, in "She Stoops to Conquer," may be congratulated on a distinct success.
The little town of Amadee out on the N. & C. is having quite a boom just at present. The travel out to the rising town from here is much heavier than that returning, as nearly every one who goes out seems to stay.
The Original New Orleans Uncle Tom's Cabin Company, with a gold band, a grand operatic orchestra, special scenery, a fine male quartette, a pack of black Siberian bloodhounds and many other features will be the next attraction at McKiesick's Opera House.
Congressman Fowler of New Jersey is a silver man. In advocating the Bland resolution instructing the Committee on Rules to bring in a special order, fixing a date for the silver bill to be taken up, he said the assertion that New Jersey couldn't be carried on a free silver platform was untrue.
Twenty-three cars of cattle and sheep were shipped from here to the California market yesterday by special train. Grayson & Owen, Oakland, 3, and Horn & Chapman 6 carloads of cattle. Dan Wheeler shipped 2 and B. Salles 4 cars of sheep. Frank Armour shipped one car of cattle last night. There will be another shipment to-day.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Silver the Leading Question in Congress—Blaine Rewards a Friend—The Canadian Commission A Fizzle.
WASHINGTON D.C. FEBRUARY 20, 1922.
EDITOR NEVADA STATE JOURNAL:—All other questions before Congress are for a time
DWARFED BY THE SILVER QUESTION.
Having made a bad break in predicting that no free coinage bill would be required to the House, the know-it-alls are now saying that the bill will not be passed, but it is difficult to see upon what ground they base their prediction. It looks to your correspondent that the pass age of the Bland bill by the House is as certain as a legislative action of the future can be. The Nine Farmer's Alliance members have signed a petition to the Committee on Rules asking that an early day be set for the consideration of the bill, and the Democrats are circulating a similar petition, which has already been signed by about 120 members. The opponents of the bill, however, are by no means idle, and if the Committee on Rules should be disposed to aid them they can make a long fight, with a possibility of defeating the bill by deadlocking the House; but there are two reasons why this is not probable. All three of the Democratic members of the Committee on Rules have voted in the past for free coinage, and, a long fight over the Silver bill would very seriously interfere with the tariff programme.
BLAINE REMEMBERS A FRIEND.
Secretary Blaine has a way of helping those who help him, which may account for much of his personal popularity. In 1881 when the mugwump onslaught against Mr. Blaine, who was then his party's Presidential candidate, was at its height, there was a movement in Harvard College to pass a resolution condemning Mr. Blaine and pledging their support to Mr. Cleveland. The personal efforts of a student from New York, Rowland P. Mahoney by name, are said to have prevented such action on the part of the students. Mr. Blaine was not at the time acquainted with Mr. Mahoney, but he did not forget the work he did for him, and in the early days of the present administration Mr. Mahoney was surprised to be tendered the position of Secretary to the American Legation in Chili, a place he declined because of small salary. But Mr. Blaine did not consider the debt of 1881 paid by the tender of that position, so several days ago the nomination of Mr. Mahoney to be Minister to Ecuador was sent to the Senate. The most curious part of this transaction is that Senator Hisecock, who, as the only Republican Senator from New York, is supposed to be consulted as to Federal appointments from that state, did not know anything about this one, not even in what part of the State Mr. Mahoney resides.
THE CANADIAN COMMISSION.
The visit of the Canadian Commissioners is now regarded as a fizzle, the British Minister having informed Secretary Blaine that they have no authority to negotiate a reciprocity treaty, and came here to get information, if possible, of the intention of the Government, in order that they might ask the British Government, if they are favorable enough, to make a treaty. They did not get much information from Blaine.
RELATING TO BANKS.
The House passed the bill prohibiting the loaning of funds to the officers of national banks without the sanction of a majority vote of the Board of Directors. The House also passed an amendment to the Federal Reserve laws abolishing the minimum punishment for violation thereof.
VERDI NOTES.
Goings on in the Mountain Village.
Verdi is growing to such dimensions that it is long it will have to have its own paper to record its doings.
Improvement is the order of the day, and the carpenter's hammer has not been allowed to grow rusty from want of use.
Billy Cobb is expected home Sunday from his two weeks' trip to the city, which is considered the next best thing to a regular boom.
O. Lonkey and wife departed for San Francisco early in the week and will be absent several weeks.
Miss Hattie Rhodes of Reno is visiting Mrs. Camille Lonkey.
The exercises given by the public school in honor of Washington's birthday were very creditable and drew a good many visitors.
The Literary Society presented a very interesting programme last Friday night and a large crowd was out to hear it. Next Friday night the subject, "Whether man is influenced more by money than by woman" will be ably discussed.
CHANDON.
ORDER OF EASTERN STAR.
A Fraternal Visit to Carson Chapter.
A party of about thirty Masons and their wives, members of the Order of Eastern Star, departed on the 145 V. & T. local yesterday for Carson City upon an invitation from the Chapter of that city, the occasion being an entertainment and banquet in celebration of the anniversary of the institution of the order. Among those who attended were T. K. Hymers and wife, G. W. Cunningham and wife, W. J. Luke, wife and sister, Gus Martin and wife, L. L. Crockett and wife, Professor Lowers, Ben Andrews and sister, Miss Grissie Andrews, John Douglas and wife, Mrs. W. P. McLaughlin, Mrs. L. J. Flint, Mrs. W. H. Noyes, Sol Levy and wife, W. S. Bailey and wife, J. M. McCormack and wife and others. The party returned by special train last night, arriving about 12 o'clock. All speak in glowing terms of Carson's hospitality, and report having spent a most pleasant evening.
Outside Comment.
The Carson Tribune says: "The Board of Trade statement published in the Reno Journal shows that two-thirds of the money paid into the Board went into the Gazette office for extra papers, printing pamphlets, etc., and the pockets of the Manager, Bob Fulton."

POSTER'S WEATHER FORECASTS.
Heavy Storms in March—Sun Spots and Electro-Meteorology.
Copyrighted 1922 by W. T. Foster.
St. Joseph, Mo., February 26.—Last week I gave forecasts of the storm wave due to cross the continent from 22d to 27th and the cool wave from 25th to 29th. The next storm wave will be due to reach the Pacific Coast about February 28th, cross the Rocky Mountains by the close of the 29th, the great central valleys from March 1 to 3, and the Eastern States about the 4th.
This storm will have greatest force west of the Missouri river and will probably cause a blizzard in Montana February 29th and a storm of considerable force further southeast about March 1st. Rough weather may be expected throughout the Missouri valley about March 2d.
This storm will lose its force as it enters the Eastern States about March 31 and 4th, but the storm preceding it will be of considerable force in the Northeastern States on February 29th.
The cool wave moving eastward will cross the Pacific slope and the Western mountains by the close of March 1st, the great central valleys about March 3d, and the Eastern States about March 5th.
SEVERE STORMS IN MARCH.
I have often stated and will repeat that very severe storms will occur on this continent during March. Western Europe has experienced the greatest storms of the century during the past six months, and it is almost impossible for this country not to go through the same experience during the next six months.
Even orthodox scientists have given warning of the great disturbances near at hand, because of the great sun spots and other remarkable disturbances now apparent on the sun. Spots on the sun, they declare, cause an increase in the force of our earth storms through the agency of the electrical forces.
They also declare that the perihelion of Jupiter causes a maximum of sun spots and an increase in the auroral displays. All this indicates that the men who have posed as the leaders in scientific research are being forced to acknowledge the influence of the planets on our earth, and that electricity is the medium.
DISREGARDING CAUSE AND EFFECT.
But in claiming that sun spots cause auroras and other earth disturbances, and that the perihelion of the planets cause sun spots, these great scientists wholly disregard all the laws of electricity and magnetism.
Jupiter is now about 40,000,000 miles nearer the sun than it was six years ago, and, if we follow the laws of electricity, that would increase the electrical forces of the sun and earth, which in turn would increase the evaporation and cloudiness on the sun, thereby preventing sun spots; therefore, the perihelion of the planets cannot cause sun spots and sun spots cannot cause earth disturbances.
Sun spots must necessarily be of exactly the same nature as our high barometers, and our cold waves, causing large areas of clear weather, corresponding to the large dark spots on the sun.
The faculae, or bright spots on the sun are the same as our low barometers where we have densely cloudy weather. Whatever causes our storm centers, our high and low barometers, our cold waves also cause the sun spots, and I assert without fear of successful contradiction, that it is the equinox of Jupiter and not his perihelion that causes the increase of auroras and sun spots.
ELECTRO-METEOROLOGY.
On the night of February 13th, when the great aurora lighted up the northern heavens—also the regions of the south pole, no doubt, although we have no news from that part of the earth—Jupiter was within two degrees of his equinox while he was fourteen degrees from his perihelion, therefore the electric tension of the sun was very great and only needed an outlet in order to shock or electrify the whole solar system.
The electrifying event occurred on the 13th, when Venus passed the earth's equator and the earth passed the equator of Mars. Any one who has studied the nature of electrical currents in connection with revolving globes, will readily see the logic in these statements.
But the difficulty in the way of orthodox scientists is that they still consider the sun as a burning body, instead of, as it really is, a body very much like the earth, with its seas, continents, mountains, valleys, clouds and storms, all affected by the very same laws and in the same manner as are the various parts of our earth.
The World Enriched.
The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.
Challenge.
I will run any one in Washoe county seventy-five yards for from $100 to $500. Any person desiring to accept this challenge can find me at the Palace Hotel.
